

Participant Definition

The participant is someone who wants to spend more time with friends but has trouble meeting up with them because they all have different schedules. They are looking for ways to spend time with people they may not see often.